

Year 5 Home Learning

Hello! We hope you and your families are all safe and well. Here is a brand new set of tasks which we hope you enjoy doing at home. Learning is important for you at this time but remember that being kind to your loved ones, especially your families, is paramount. If you would like to share any of your home learning, please get your adult to email pictures to the school email.

Write yourself a letter and keep it so that in years to come you remember this time. What have you been doing? What has been going on around you? What have you missed? What are you looking forward to when this is all over?

Research a planet of your choice and then use this information to design your own planet. Create a poster/fact file about the climate, who lives there, what it looks like, how far away from Earth it is.

Do daily exercise. You could join in with Joe Wicks at 9am or complete a Just Dance routine on youtube. Draw an outline of your body and label 5 bones and 5 muscles.

Using the watercolours that you were gifted from school, can you paint the view from your window. You could add this to your letter that you've written as a memory of this time.

During Ramadan, Muslims reflect on how they can improve themselves. Think of one improvement you would like to make .

Draw a rainbow and label the colours in Spanish.

Make yourself a daily timetable saying what times you will be doing things. How many hours of the day have you spent doing each activity? Eating, exercising, learning. Can you work this out as a fraction? What did you spend the most time doing?

Try and listen to two new types of music this week. Whether it be country, classical, jazz. Ask everyone in your house which is their favourite and why. Do they prefer a more upbeat song? A slower song? Why?
